TWENTY-ONE YEARS

In Penitentiary Given Hiram Powers for Killing Renfrow.

One Juror Saved Him From Life Imprisonment--Insanity Plea Didn't Work.

After deliberating nine and one-half hours the jury which tried the case of Hiram C. Powers for the murder of Fitzhugh Renfrow at 9:30 o'clock last Saturday night returned a verdict of guilty and fixed his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for a period of twenty-one years.

The verdict was a great surprise to the defendant who had all the time expected an acquittal. He pleaded self defense and insanity and the latter plea was supported by the evidence of quite a number of physicians of excellent standing in their profession as well as a record of several cases of insanity in the family of the defendant and the further fact that Commonwealth's Attorney B. D. Ringo, who led the prosecution, had said less than a year ago that the defendant was "crazy."

Relying on these means of evidence the defendant felt confident of an acquittal.

But the evidence of guilt was to strong and convincing. The eye witnesses swore that the killing was done without provocation and most of the jury evidently believed it to be a case of unprovoked wilful murder. It is asserted that only one juror stood between the defendant and life sentence, he holding out for twenty-one years, to which the eleven others agreed rather than have a mistrial. It is also asserted that four jurors favored only twenty-one years. It is clear however that the insanity plea had but little weight with the jury, and his plea of self defense fell flat, there being practically no evidence except the statements of the defendant himself to substantiate that ground of defense.

Dr. Maxwell, a son-in-law of the defendant and Mr. William Park were the chief witnesses for the prosecution being the nearest eye witness to the tragedy. Their statements were unimpeachable straight forward and convincing. Several other witnesses gave important evidence.

The sentence of twenty-one years given Powers will probably amount to a life sentence for him. It is freely predicted that he cannot survive even half of his term, but that a life sentence would have been more commensurate with the crime he committed is the sentiment of a majority of the people who heard the trial.

The defendant has made a motion for a new trial and if the court refuses it he will probably appeal his case to the Court of Appeals.

A Fordsville Wedding.

Owensboro Inquirer.

A wedding of interest to many Owensboro people, was solemnized at 6 o'clock Monday morning by Rev. T. J. Ratcliff at Fordsville, when Miss Dora Holderman and Mr. Robert Miller, of that place were united in marriage. The wedding was a surprise to the friends of the young people and only a few attended the ceremony, which was performed at the home of the bride's aunt.

Mrs. Miller was a daughter of Mr. Jake Holderman and had won a large number of friends and acquaintances by her many charms. She is one of Fordsville's most attractive young women. Mr. Miller is an excellent young man in every respect and is well known here as well as at his home. He is a brother of Mr. Clarence J. Miller, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller came to the city this morning to attend the Chautauqua, after which they will return to Fordsville to reside. While here they will be the guests of Mrs. W. T. May and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller.

Work Begins at State Capitol.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 14. The work of construction on the new state capitol was begun this morning by Biale & Zehnder, Louisville contractors, who have the foundation excavation work. The contractor's representatives also began the erection of his offices and tool houses on the grounds.

STATE ATTORNEY.

Sends State's Brief in Howard Case to Supreme Court.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 18. Attorney General Hays has forwarded to the Clerk of the United States Court at Washington his brief in the case of James B. Howard, the convicted murderer assassin which is in that court on writ of error, and is to be heard at the coming October term.

The brief is printed and covers 130 pages. It is a complete history of the case, and in the argument for the Commonwealth cities authorities of many State and Federal courts in support of the contention that no Federal question is involved in the case.

The appeal in this case is from a judgment of the Franklin Circuit Court, which was affirmed by the Court of Appeals, sentencing Howard to imprisonment for life in the State penitentiary. The appeal to the Supreme Court is based on the alleged denial of the equal protection of the laws. The State Court of Appeals held that rulings of the trial court on challenges to the panel of jurors for cause in a criminal case are not subject to exceptions or review, and are final.

"My Own Story."

[Louisville Herald.]

The first edition of "My Own Story," by Caleb Powers, having been exhausted, a new edition is to be shortly put on the market by the Bobbs-Merrill Publishing Company, of Indianapolis. Mr. Powers has a substantial cash interest in every copy of the work sold. Those who buy the book, therefore, promote the cause of justice. The money received by Mr. Powers is needed to secure him a fair trial, either before United States courts or the State tribunals, as may be in time decided by the highest court in the land.

The book is a calmly told, interesting life narrative, full of dramatic interest and situation. It is a record of brave struggles, of severe trials of patience, endurance, loyalty and rectitude manifested throughout, often under circumstances of extreme difficulty. It is a chapter of Kentucky history of unique value that should be in every fair-minded man's hands. The price of the book is $1.50 per copy. The volume includes nearly 500 pages. It is well bound, and amply as well as artistically illustrated, fit to adorn any library.

CLASH AT ROCKPORT.

Between About Thirty Negroes And Fifteen to Twenty Whites.

A clash between the negroes and whites at Rockport began last Saturday night and assumed serious proportions before the engaging parties were quieted. It is reported that the trouble grew out of a trivial matter, some dispute arising between one of the colored fellows and a white man about a lunch, perhaps five cents worth of cheese, and they engaged in abuse one of the other, during which the colored fellow called the white man a n---o---b which the white fellow represented others joined in and a general fight occurred. Volley after volley were fired from the ever ready pistols but no one was seriously hurt. Finally about midnight all the belligerents acquitted the scene and all became quiet.

The fight was renewed the next day (Sunday) when a report reached Rockport that several negroes had congregated and armed themselves and were on their way to town. The whites did not wait for them to arrive but about fifteen or twenty armed themselves with pistols, rifles and shot-guns and sallied forth to meet the negroes, a crowd of whom they found at Pet Render's. They opened fire on the dark skins and in a short while put them to flight.

One of the negroes who was in these fights came to Hartford Monday and had a warrant issued for fifteen of the whites who are alleged to have been engaged in the difficulty. The warrant, which charges them with banding together to disturb or injure other persons, upon conviction for which one to five years in the penitentiary being the penalty, was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Chester Keown who went to Rockport Wednesday to execute it. After spending the whole day executing the warrant and making arrangements to bring those arrested to Hartford, he was directed by County Attorney W. H. Barnes to turn the warrant over to the Rockport Police Court where the examining trial will be had.

WILL FACE DEATH.

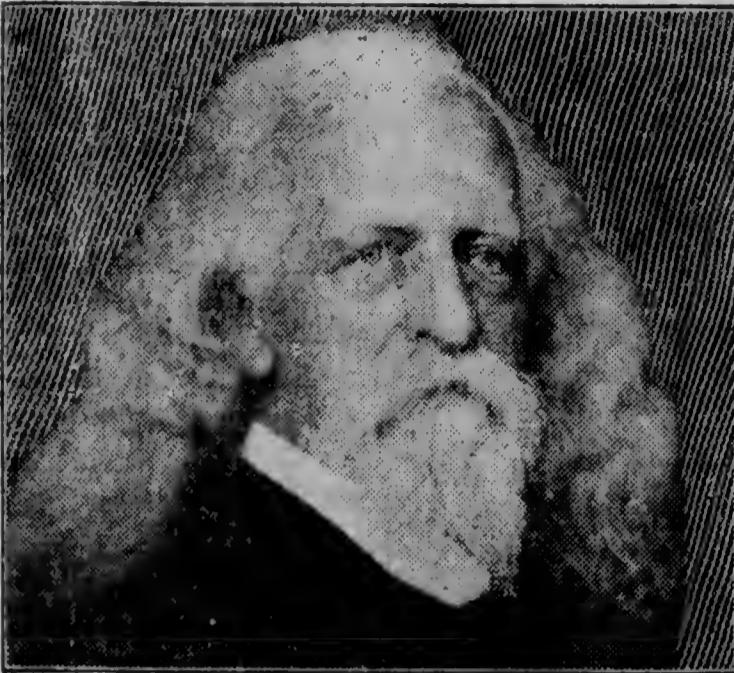

St. Paul Specialist Will Let Pest Bearing Mosquito Bite Him.

New Orleans, Aug. 16.—Arsenic as a preventive of yellow fever will be given a thorough test by Dr. Reginald B. Leach, a St. Paul specialist. The doctor, who for some time has been taking arsenic pills, will to-morrow night invade the most infected district of the city and allow himself to be bitten by the Stegomyia fasciata, the pest-bearing mosquito, and will then return to his hotel to await results.

Dr. Leach will make the experiment on his own responsibility. He came here some days ago and tried to interest the New Orleans Medical society in the treatment but without success. A third or more of the New Orleans people are taking his arsenic pills and would like to have a practical test to show the virtue of the pellets.

A COMRADE OF GENERAL GRANT

Says: "I Do Not Believe Pe-ru-na Has a Superior."

COL. BENJ. F. HAWKES.

Col. Benj. F. Hawkes, of 611 G street, S. W., Washington, D. C., is one of the three living comrades of General Grant in his cadet days at West Point. In a recent letter this venerable gentleman says of Peruna:

"I have tried Peruna after having tried in vain other remedies for catarrh, and I can say without reservation that I never felt a symptom of relief until I had given Peruna the simple trial that its advocates advise. I do not believe it has a superior either as a remedy for catarrh or as a tonic for the depressing and exhausted condition which is one of the effects of the disease."—Benj. F. Hawkes.

The Greatest Family Medicine Ever Discovered.

Hon. Wm. G. Hunter, ex-member North Carolina Legislature, writes from the Census Office Building, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"The greatest family medicine ever discovered, in my opinion, which comes from experience as well as observation, is Peruna. The most common affliction to humankind is a bad cold. Peruna drives it out of doors, wards off catarrh, invigorates and gives fresh strength to mind and body. I give Peruna my unqualified endorsement."—Wm. G. Hunter.

Chronic Catarrh of the Stomach Cured By Pe-ru-na.

Jas. T. Jakeman, President Elder Mormon Church, Salt Lake City, Utah, writes:

"I should be and am a very grateful man for having been recommended the use of Peruna for catarrh. I had a chronic case of catarrh of the stomach and my system was so filled with different remedies that I had taken, that I sickened at the sight of a medicine bottle. Peruna was a last resort and it did not fail me, but cured me in about three months and I feel that it is a wonderful remedy and gladly give my experience from its use."—Jas. T. Jakeman.

Pe-ru-na Proved a Life Saver.

Mr. Louis Byrnes, auctioneer, commission merchant and business broker, 43½ Richmond street, London, Ont., writes:

"I had been a sufferer with what physicians diagnosed as chronic catarrh. I thereby lost the necessary speaking faculties, which almost caused me to discontinue the business of auctioneer.

"After spending several hundred dollars for various medicines and doctor bills without avail, your wonderful remedy, Peruna, was recommended to me.

"After using several bottles of this life saver, I found relief, and I am again capable of conducting my auction sales.

"I wish to convince others, likewise afflicted, of the merits of your great remedy."—Louis Byrnes.

Thousands of Testimonials.

We have on file thousands of testimonials like the ones given here. We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements of Peruna which we are constantly receiving.

Peruna is a Catarhal Tonic Especially Adapted to the Declining Powers of Old Age.

In old age the mucous membranes become thickened and partly lose their function.

This leads to partial loss of hearing, smell and taste, as well as digestive disturbances.

Peruna corrects all this by its specific operation on all the mucous membranes of the body.

One bottle will convince anyone. Once used and Peruna becomes a life-long standby with old and young.

Mr. Charles F. Benetson, Truesdale, Mo., writes: "I have followed your instructions for the past month and am now as well as I can be at the age of eighty-four years. I thank you for your valuable instructions and advice. I first used Peruna fourteen years ago when my health was so bad that I had no hope of staying many days, and after using it I began to pick up. It has helped me ever since. I feel well, but will always have Peruna as my companion."—Charles F. Benetson.

Suffered a Number of Years From Systemic Catarrh.

Used Peruna as Last Resort, Now in Good Health.

Mrs. E. Schonacher, 220½ S. Olive St., Los Angeles, Cal., president Girl's Friendly Society, also secretary South Los Angeles Travelers Club, writes:

"I was for a number of years a sufferer from systemic catarrh. I was very nervous and run down, my appetite had failed me and my sleep was not restful. I had lost much in weight and looked like a very sick person. My physician advised a change of climate and the medicine I took only gave me temporary relief.

"I tried a bottle of Peruna as a last resort and was greatly pleased to find that I felt much improved in a general way and then I bought several bottles more.

"I am now in good health and have a good appetite and sleep well. I cannot say too much for Peruna and for what it has done for me."—E. Schonacher.

Pe-ru-na Contains no Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

RIGID AS IRON.

Was a Woman Who Took Headache Powders--Then She Died.

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 14.—While Mrs. Thomas Patterson was preparing supper this evening she was stricken with a violent headache, and going to the medical chest took a headache powder that has been thrown in at her door the day before. Immediately she was seized with internal spasm, and within an hour was dead. Her body was rigid as a piece of iron five minutes before death.

In Trouble at Island.

As the result of a difficulty with Jack Matthews, Everett Foster, of Island, is under arrest on the charge of shooting with intent to kill and, besides, is suffering from a broken arm received by falling over a fence in a hasty retreat after he had emptied three chambers of his revolver at Matthews. The men got into a dispute over a rubber ball, according to reports from persons in the vicinity, and both drew their revolvers. Foster seems to have been quicker than his antagonist, but was very inaccurate in his aim, none of his shots taking effect.

After firing three shots, Foster turned to run and fell over a fence, breaking his arm. He was arrested shortly after the shooting.

RULES OF HEALTH.

Temperance, Abstinence or Worry
a Youthful Mind and Plenty of Sleep.

(New York World)

A famous New York physician, now half and handsome at 75, sums up his half a century of medical practice and observation in these simple rules of health:

1. Be temperate in all things, in matters of amusement or study as well as in regard to foods and drinks. To be temperate in all things, however, does not imply that one must be a prohibitionist about anything.

2. Don't be afraid to go to sleep; for sleep is the best restorer of wasted energies. Sleep a certain number of hours every night, and then remember that a short nap during the day is a safer rejuvenator than a cocktail.

3. Don't worry either about the past or the future. To waste a single hour in regret for the past is as senseless as to send good money after that which has been irrecoverably lost. To fret one's self about what the future may have in store is about as reasonable as to attempt to brush back the tide of the ocean with a broom. Worry, of whatever kind, banishes contentment, and contentment is a necessity of youth.

4. Keep the mind youthful. Live in the present with all the other young people. Don't get to be reminiscent. Let the old people talk about the past, for the mere act of thinking about old things reminds the mind of its years. Reminiscences are dangerous whether they be soothing or sweet or sad, for they characterize old age, and must be sedulously avoided by those who would be ever young.

5. Keep up with the time. Don't fall behind the procession. To accomplish this learn one new fact every day. The mind that is satisfied to live upon the lessons it learned in its youth soon grows old and rusty. To keep young it must be fresh and active that is, abreast with the times. The old methods of thought and the old facts may have been correct enough once upon a time, but that time has passed.

Today they are obsolete and only amusing as relics of antiquity. To remain young therefore, one must keep the storehouse of the memory clear of all such rubbish. Throw away one of the mildewed relics every day and replace it with some newer, fresher and more up-to-date fact.

Here, then, is this New York Physician's secret of perennial youth in a nutshell:

Be temperate! Don't be afraid to go to sleep! And keep up with the time.

It is not a difficult rule of life to follow. It is ever so much easier than wandering about strange lands in search of hidden springs. It is somewhat pleasanter than stewing over ill-smelling crucibles. Moreover, it has the advantage of being thoroughly practicable, which makes it well worth trying.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will offer One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhœa, Feminile Weakness, Prolapso, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"I have found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription of inestimable value," writes Mrs. Ellen Almira Bryan (Treasurer Memphis Century Club), of 191 Vance Street, Memphis, Tenn., "one tonic for over-wrought nerves, or when one is tired, weak and feeble, and in poor condition, hardly knowing what the trouble is. I was advised to use it by a member of our Club, and the effect on me was truly wonderful. Within two weeks I was like a new woman. I could eat and sleep as I have not been able to for months; my appetite became strong and the mental equilibrium was restored, as well as the physical. Your medicine has my highest endorsement."

Don't hesitate to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N.Y., for the good advice and advice from a fully qualified physician as to your personal good health. Such letters are always answered free of charge and confidentially.

A medicine which has outlasted all others for women in the past third of a century and being recommended by all those who have used it, is a good remedy to tie to. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is purely vegetable and does not contain a particle of alcohol to destroy the blood corpuscles and weaken the system. Do not permit the dealer to insult your intelligence by suggesting some other compound which he recommends as "just as good," because he makes it himself.

down on the stool and struck one note.

Immediately afterward he gave a loud groan, whereupon the manager came up, and addressing the audience, said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, the elephant has just discovered the tooth of his mother in one of the keys, and is overcome with grief, so I will immediately telegraph for another piano. In the meantime we will proceed with the other part of the performance."

The Only Way.

There is one way of maintaining the health and strength of mind and body except by nourishment. There is no way to nourish except through the stomach. The stomach must be kept healthy, pure and sweet or the strength will let down and disease will set up. No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, sour risings, rifting, in digestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles that are curable are quickly cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Kodol digests what you eat and strengthens the whole digestive apparatus. Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeitors have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicine, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease, for over 35 years. A sure protection to you, is our name on the wrapper. Look for it on all Dr. King's, or Bucklin's remedies, as all other are mere imitations. H. E. Bucklin & Co., Chicago, Ill., and Windsor, Canada. Train and Track.

The total number of passengers carried by electric lines each year in the United States is 5,836,000,000.

On the state railways in Germany the colors of the carriage are the same as the tickets of their respective classes. Thus first class carriages are yellow, second class green and third class white.

The south has more railroads in process of construction and seriously projected than all the rest of the United States. Work is being done on 4,766 miles of new railroad in the south and on 2,734 miles in the balance of the country.

YELLOW FEVER MOSQUITO.

Experiments Show That it is the Only Means by Which Disease is Transmitted.

The following now while yellow fever is so prevalent in Louisiana, is of special interest.

The whole effort of those who are combatting the yellow fever is directed against the mosquito. There is, apparently, one variety of mosquito responsible for the scourge. This is the stegomyia fasciatr. The germ of yellow fever has never been described, but the experiments of America physicians have demonstrated that the mosquito is able to carry his germ.

The experiments which were conducted in Cuba in 1900 involved the highest degree of heroism as well as of scientific research on the part of the investigators, for Dr. Carroll and Dr. Lazear both allowed themselves to be bitten by infected insects in order to demonstrate the truth of the mosquito theory, and Dr. Lazear died from the fever thus deliberately contracted.

The investigations proved that yellow fever is transmitted only by the bite of a mosquito infected by biting a sick person within the first three days of an attack and that the insect is dangerous only after an interval of twelve days following its ingestion of virulent blood. The inference is that the germ disappears from the blood of a fever patient on the fourth day of the disease and that it requires twelve days to go through the cycle of development necessary to make it dangerous. The transmission of yellow fever is thus closely analogous to the propagation of malaria. In the latter case the mosquito that conveys the disease parasite is of the anophelis variety which is commonly active only between sunrise and sunset. It requires from seven to fourteen days for the parasite, after it has entered the mosquito, to reach an infectious age of development. While there are still a few who doubt the mosquito theory, it has been so fully demonstrated that all men of science now accept it fully.

A Submarine Elevator.

(London City Journal)
An Italian engineer, Signor Jelpo, has invented a submarine elevator for raising wrecked vessels. The invention was recently put to a practical test, with complete success, in the Bay of Naples, where a stone-laden barge sunk a couple of years ago, and lying at a depth of about 50 feet, was brought to the surface with ease. The weight lifted was about 60 tons. The apparatus con-

Gibraltar is Crumbling.

The public is not aware that the great Rock of Gibraltar is tumbling down—that its crumbling, rotting masses must be continually bound together with huge patches of masonry and cement.

Yet they who sail past Gibraltar cannot fail to notice on the eastern slope of the fortress enormous silver-colored patches gleaming in the sun. These patches, in some cases 30 or 40 feet square, are the proof of Gibraltar's disintegration. Of thick, strong cement, they keep huge spurs of the cliff's side from tumbling into the blue sea.

Sea Captains, crushing in the Mediterranean, say that Gibraltar has been rotting and crumbling for many years but that of late the disintegration has gone on at a faster rate than theretofore.

They say that the stone forming this imposing cliff is rotten stone, and that in a little while the phrase "the strength of Gibraltar," will be meaningless.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight, to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro., druggist, at 50c a bottle.

Quarters and Thirteen.

Superstition seems to be a part of the mental composition of every one, and it commonly centers to a rooted antipathy to the number thirteen. The first of the teens has had to stand for many an action that was ridiculous, and yet there is hardly any person who would sidestep an inch or mournfully rail at fate should he spy a silver quarter dollar on the sidewalk. In fact, he would only be too eager to place it gently in his pocket. Have you ever taken the trouble to scan closely this small piece of silver? If you have not you may be surprised to find on the eagle side that there are 13 arrows in the bundle which is clutched in the left claw, 13 laurel leaves on the branch in the other claw, 13 stars at his head, 13 letters in the Latin inscription, "E Pluribus Unum," 13 letters in the words "quarter dollar," 13 stripes on the shield, and on the front of the silver piece are 13 stars surrounding the Liberty head, and 13 leaves in Liberty's crown. This array of 13 is in commemoration of the original 13 States which comprised the Union. Despite its many thirteens the quarter is not considered unlucky.

Dangerous and Uncertain.

For Sunburn, tetter and all skin and scalp disease, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has no equal. It is a certain cure for blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles. It will draw the fire out of a burn and heal without leaving a scar. Boils, old sores, carbuncles, etc., are quickly cured by the use of the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Accept no substitute as they are often dangerous and uncertain. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

State Lines.

Nebraska has the greatest number of distinct varieties of native pasture and hay grasses of any State in the Union.

South Carolina is making a methodical and hopeful effort to divert the stream of immigration to her territory. The State has about 14,000,000 acres of unoccupied land and desires new white blood to develop the fields and mines.

The department of vital statistics reports a total of 6,789 deaths in the State of New Hampshire during 1904. Reckoning the population at 426,188, the death rate is 15.94 to the thousand. The year 1902 is the only one in the past twenty which makes a better showing.

Hoch has procured a new lawyer.
He now wants a new trial and a new verdict.

It would require quite a venture some yellow fever laden mosquito to light on Governor Vardaman while in action.

IT is announced that a Washington woman is to give up preaching to be married. Some of them begin preaching after marriage.

IT is urged that the Japs would make excellent poker players. They have proven to be first-class at playing their hand under the table.

The only way Kentucky can get even with Illinois for the latter's defiant quarantine is to deny Miss Illinois the privilege of playing in her mint patch.

COL. HENRY WATERSON's first public statement on arriving at his Louisville home from his European visit was "I have not forgotten how to mix a mint julep."

DON'T be confused when you read the headlines in the Taggart divorce suit. It is not Tom Taggart of Indianapolis suing the Democratic party for separate maintenance.

IF THE Russians win a single point in the peace negotiations envoys Witte and Rosen will be received on their return home as the greatest warriors and statesmen of the age.

IT is reported that a Pittsburgh banker has invented a machine that will make forty pies a minute.
Now if some doctor will invent some device to digest them the combination will be quite valuable.

The Hartford Herald obstinately refuses to repeat what it had to say relative to the third term in office and the Democratic party's opposition to it when Judge Owen was a candidate for the nomination for the third term.

SEVERAL weeks have passed since we invited the committee whose duty it is to contract for the building of the iron bridge across Rough river at Ambrose Ford to explain how, when and where the letting of the contract would occur. But as yet they have made no response.
Why this silence? There is no use playing your hand under the table.

Why not come up with the clean thing? The building of this bridge is not a private affair—at least it will be paid for out of the public fund.
Then why not have some publicity about. The people of the county demand to know more about the iron bridge building. Will the gentlemen who have the information give it out? We invite you again to do so.

EVERY time we are reminded that the present managers of the community's fiscal affairs have paid off $35,- 000 of the county's indebtedness in the past seven years we cannot refrain from asking what has become of the balance of the $81,439.06 which has been collected from the people of Ohio county during that time in excess of what was collected in the seven years preceding that?
It has been said that figures do not lie. Follow them then and see what they show. From 1890 to 1896 inclusive, when John P. Morton was County Judge, and the only period in the history of the county when the Republican party has been in even partial control of the county's fiscal affairs, there was collected $143,391.65 as county revenue, while from 1897 to 1904, inclusive, during Jas.
P. Miller's term of office there has been collected as county revenue $224,833.71 just $81,439.06 more than during Morton's term. They say they have paid off $35,000 debts.
Conceding that they have, which we do not, what have they done with the $96,430.65 which they should have left out of the extra amount collected?

Program of Farmers Meeting.

The following program has been prepared for the first meeting of the Ohio County Farmers Club which will convene here on the first Monday in

Superintendent of Compulsory Education Bodine, of Chicago, created a mild sensation at the convention of factory inspectors at Detroit by declaring that the competition of women children and machine labor has driven the men out of the cities to fields of heavy manual labor, and that women would be the ruling sex

The officials of the Marine Hospital service at work in New Orleans, while unwilling to be quoted, are known to entertain hopeful views of the yellow fever situation. The results achieved to date are said to meet their expectations. They believe that the high water mark in new cases of the plague was reached Saturday and that there will be a gradual decline in the number shown in the reports from day to day. The decrease in the number of new subjects brought to light is considered particularly encouraging.

Dr. S. J. Wedding tells us of a quiet curiously affected chicken which was discovered in his yard a few days ago among this year's brood. It is just beginning to "feather out" well and during the day time is peart and lively but late in the afternoon when the hen gets her brood together for the night this particular chicken goes into a kind of stupor, is unable to walk, turns its head half way around and appears almost lifeless. When morning comes again he is all right and cannot be told from the remainder of the flock.

MODERN PIRATES' PARADISE

His Sea Robbery Flourishes Along China Coast in the Vicinity of Canton Delta.

Piracy flourishes in the Canton delta and along the China coast in that vicinity. The last report of the British consul general at Canton has an interesting story of this modern piracy. During the past year there were half a dozen serious attacks on British steam launches. Chinese passenger launches and boats are frequently held up and plundered. Complaints are made to the local authorities, but nothing is really done to protect trade. Even within in the precincts of the harbor pirates and robbers plunder and loot with impunity. The people are left to protect themselves as best they may and such is their fear and dread of having anything to do with Chinese authorities that no man, whatever his grievance or wrong, will readily venture to apply to the magistrate for assistance or redress.

This insecurity of life and property tells seriously against all development of trade. From the silk districts come repeated complaints of blackmailing by local bandits. Foreign goods sent into the interior under transit passes are pirated and only in one single instance, after 18 months of arguing and battling with the officials, has a foreign consul succeeded in obtaining the recovery of a few articles and the arrest of a few men, who the magistrates gravely says are the culprits.

In one case a Hongkong junk was pirated and the cargo landed in broad day light under the eyes of the local officials by the villagers, yet nothing was done and no redress could be obtained. The Kwangsi rebellion, which has taxed all the resources of the provincial government to suppress, was the direct outcome of a corruption and peculation. Left without food and pay, the soldiers of Marshal Su took to the hills and started an insurrection.

LIVING IN HOUSTON, TEXAS

Gotham Publication Has Unique Ideas of Life in the Western Metropolis.

The New York World describes the Houston (Tex.) customs in the following paragraphs:

In the principal hotel six-shooters may be checked with the hat and gloves before entering the dining-room.

All the women take one side of Main street and all the men the other.

In the very heart of the stock country it is impossible to obtain such a steak as is served in a very ordinary New York restaurant.

A glass of milk is worth from 10 to 25 cents, according to the degree of dilution by water.

All the men smoke cigarettes made by themselves out of the cheapest tobacco and rice paper. Saffron finger tips are the vogue.

When it rains the skies are open and high top boots are a necessity. The young man who goes calling in the rainy season may change his footwear before entering.

There is no such thing as a "perch" to the native of Houston. What might be the same thing anywhere else is termed a "galley."

Hot biscuits for breakfast and rice for dinner and supper and lunch are staple on every table. Minimint pepper berries go with everything.

Sidewalks are a missing quantity. Until recently they were counted an extravagance.

All the street cars have compartments for colored passengers. A movable screen separates the sections. It is so arranged that no negro may sit in front of a white passenger.

"The Boots of Isaiah."

Jacob Boehme, the "mystic shoemaker," once wrote a pamphlet which he called "Reflections on the Treatise of Isaiah Stiel." One of Boehme's biographers had never heard of that theologian. But he knew enough German to be aware that "Stiel" meant "boot," and he was further misled by the fact that Boehme was a cobbler as well as a philosopher.

So the sample was taken and tested, and, of course, was found to be all right. Burns was bewildered. "Was there aught wrang wi' me, Jean, last night?" he asked.

"Weel, Mr. Burns, 'tis na for me to say—weel, I just thought ye were fully suert wi' yer wee tester."

us Boehme's "Reflections on the Boots of Isaiah." In this guise it passed into several catalogues.

Lucky Doctor.

In France it is not only the uneducated who plunge in the public lotteries. They are patronized by all classes, and a Calais doctor has just found Dame Fortune more kind than he was ever likely to find. Aesculapius. His name is Dr. Hue, and he took a whole ticket in the last issue of Panama lottery bonds. He has just received notification that he has drawn the grand prize of £20,000. Dr. Hue was chief surgeon to the hospitals of Calais.

ENGLISH FLOWER GARDENS

First Man to Show That They Had Rights Was John Parkinson, Poet and Writer.

The first man who defended the flower garden as having an independent right to exist was John Parkinson, relates Harper's Magazine.

Until his time there had made expenses for the cultivation of flowers, as if they were an agreeable but frivolous addition to the serious business of fruit trees, medicinal herbs and kitchen produce.

Parkinson, who was born in 1567, was an apothecary by trade, and he had a garden in Long Acre, where nothing green or fresher than coach-builders' show-rooms is cultivated now. He was the earliest to lay down that there were four kinds of horticultural inclosures, namely, of pleasant and delightful flowers, of kitchen herbs and roots, of simples and of fruit trees, and that the first of these must be held to be less honorable than the others. He probably had a considerable share in getting the deliberate flower garden introduced, perhaps about 1595, and he was much interested in its forms and definition. A great deal of thought had to be expended upon the bordering; it was usual to edge the grass plots with thyme, and when flowers were first grown in open beds germander was used to border them. This was a little shrub, Tenerium, from the rocky shores of the Mediterranean, with grayish, violet blossoms; it could be trained to make a dwarf hedge, and it had a pleasant faint scent.

Germander, however, soon went out of fashion because it was so difficult to keep it neat and trim. Great value was then set on strongly perfumed plants, such as lavender, marjoram, thyme and sage, for borderings. But when Parkinson wrote his "Paradise in Sole," a generation later, the latest invention for edging beds was white or bluish pebbles set up in lines.

ROBERT BURNS IN EXCISE.

Tale of How Scottish Woman Fooled Him When He Tested Quality of Her Liquor.

A story is told in Thornhill, Scotland, about Burns in his capacity as excise man. Old Jean Davidson kept a small whisky shop, and was suspected of putting more fresh water into his liquor than was needful or lawful. Burns accordingly came with his apparatus and once detected the irregularity. "Now, Jean, ma woman," he said, "I canna tak this to Dumfries this nicht; 'tis ower late. But I'll seal it wi' the king's seal, and return to lift it in the mornin'!"

When he had gone to his lodging Jean fetched the village cooper, who removed a hoop from the barrel and bored a hole through which the adulterated liquor was drawn off, and stuff of regulation strength poured in. Then the hoop was refixed, and Jean, with a brave heart, awaited the gauger.

In the morning up came Burns to claim the keg. "The minute, Mr. Burns," said Jean, sweetly, "Ye might jest test that whisky to convince me; since I canna see how I could have been makin' sic a mistake."

"It means breaking the king's seal," said Burns, "but I'll just fix on another."

So the sample was taken and tested, and, of course, was found to be all right. Burns was bewildered. "Was there aught wrang wi' me, Jean, last night?" he asked.

"Weel, Mr. Burns, 'tis na for me to say—weel, I just thought ye were fully suert wi' yer wee tester."

AUSTRALIA DIVORCE MECCA

More Divorces There Than in Most Countries, But Average Is by Far Less.

"Divorces in the Australian states," says United States Consul Godding at New Castle, N. S. W., "are more numerous than in most of the countries of the world, though the average is far below that reached in the United States. The number is particularly large in Victoria and New South Wales, where the facilities for procuring divorces are greater than they are in the other states. Since the passing of the Shiel's act of 1890, which made desertion for three years a ground for divorce in Victoria, divorces have averaged over 100 per annum, the greatest number being 131 in 1902, and the lowest, 55 in 1895. The total for the period 1891-1903 was 1,250, and the average per 10,000 marriages for the period 1896-1902 was 125.4.

In countries where divorce laws are in force this record is only surpassed by those of Germany, 165; France, 180; Romania, 204; Switzerland, 132, and the United States, 612 divorces for every 10,000 marriages.

In New South Wales the figures are much higher than they are in Victoria. An act similar to the Victorian measure came into force in New South Wales in 1892, and the number of divorce decrees at once showed an increase—an almost alarming increase. In the quinquennial period 1891-1896 the number of divorces granted in New South Wales was no fewer than 1,087, against 212 for the period immediately preceding it. This total gives an average of 272.3 divorces per 10,000 marriages, which is much more than double the average in Victoria during the same years, and is exceeded only by those for Switzerland and the United States. In the period 1896-1902 the number of divorces granted in New South Wales was 1,675, an average of 268.4 per 10,000 marriages, the third greatest among all countries where divorces are in force.

BEAUTIFUL NATIVE TREES.

American Elm Should Be Planted When Soil Is Moist and Suitable —Other Good Examples.

Probably the American elm would be voted our most graceful and beautiful tree, asserts the Chautauquan. It is certainly worthy of the attention which it has received. It should be planted where the soil is suited to it and where there is an abundant moisture, and should be given a large space to develop its spreading top. Our other elms and the species which have come to us from Europe are not so graceful in shape, but they have qualities which make them worthy of place in any cemetery large enough to contain all available trees.

The maples are good trees, especially the sugar maple and the Norway maple. The latter is, perhaps, the most available ornamental tree that has come to us from Europe. It sends its leaves and blossoms out very early in the season and retains its foliage until November. It seems to delight in sandy soil.

The soft white or silver maple is a tree of very rapid growth, but it is often condemned on account of the ease with which its branches are broken by severe winds. It is also very subject to the attacks of the maple scale, but, nevertheless, it is a beautiful tree and sometimes supplies just the foliage required to form a satisfactory picture. The maples, as all know, are most attractive for the reds and yellows which they assume in autumn.

Ash trees are graceful in shape and are admirable in every way, with the exception that they are a little tardy in showing their new growth in the spring and that they drop their leaves early in the fall.

Noted Architect.

The Prussian architect, Gustav Ebe, celebrated his seventieth birthday a few weeks ago. The buildings which he began to erect in Berlin in 1874 formed a new epoch in the architecture of the German capital. He was the first to use sandstone there as the favorite material, the first who carried out the architectural style in the inside decorations, the first who infused a really artistic spirit into the building business.

Weeding Out Chiefs.

The sublime porte, tired, apparently, of continuous fighting with the Albanians, without obtaining any result, seems to have adopted the more insidious plan of weeding out the chiefs. Osman Pasha, one of the most powerful chiefs in Albania, lately arrived at Sentari, ostensibly on a visit to the governor of the province. He is stated to be really, however, in a condition of gilded exile, and many other chiefs are believed to be threatened with similar treatment.

Woman as Reformer.

The average woman would rather marry a man to reform him than not to be able to pose as any sort of a reformer.—Chicago Sun.

BROTHER HAD NO FAMILY.

And for This Simple Reason Poor Layman Could Have No Luxury, as "Family Prayer."

It was at a certain church meeting, and the good bishop was calling for reports. He had a rather stern, sharp manner, which sometimes jarred a little on the nerves of the more timid, relates Harper's Magazine. By and by he came to Brother B—, a lay delegate.

"Brother B—, what is the spiritual condition of your church?" demanded the bishop, briskly.

"I consider it good," said the brother.

"What makes you think it is good?" went on the bishop.

"Well, the people are religious. That's what makes me think so."

"What do you call religious? Do they have family prayer?"

"Some of them do, and some do not."

"Do you mean to say that a man may be a Christian and not hold family prayer?"

"Yes, sir; I think so."

"Do you hold family prayer?"

"Yes, sir," returned the brother.

"And yet you think a man may be a Christian and not hold family prayer?"

"I have a brother, who is a better man than I am, who does not hold family prayer."

"What makes you think he is a better man than you are?"

"Everybody says so, and I know he is."

"Why does not your brother, if he is such a good man, hold family prayer?" thundered the bishop.

"He has no family," merrily answered the brother.

HIS EDUCATION IN MUSIC.

Japanese Baron Tells How Youth Practiced on Piano While Instrument Was Locked.

Baron Kaneko, of Japan, is spending the summer in the Maine woods, and the people of the picturesque Maine village of Harps well enjoy greatly his interesting comments on American life.

"I don't know," said Baron Kaneko one day, "that I altogether approve of the compulsory instruction in music that is put upon American children. If a boy or girl has an ear for music then cultivate it by all means, but don't try to make musicians out of all children indiscriminately, and thus you will avoid such household conversations as one I overheard the other day.

"I was on a train, and a father and his young son sat near me. The father said:

"John, do you practice regularly on the piano while I am away at business?"

"Yes, father," replied the boy.

"Every day?"

"Yes, sir."

"How long did you practice today?"

"Three hours."

"And how long yesterday?"

"Two hours and a half."

"Well, I'm glad to hear that you are so regular."

"Yes, sir."

"And the next time you practice be sure you unlock the piano. Here is the key. I locked the instrument last week and I have been carrying the key in my pocket ever since."

CELEBRATE JULY 4th.

Philippine Teacher Describes Independence Day Exercises.

Duo Copay, Pinay July 5, 1905.
The Star Spangled Banner plays merrily in the evening breezes.

We are but a few Americans in the town of L. I., but in taking stock on the night of July 4th we found ourselves into two horses and two Kraggs strong with no neckers large and small, something must be done to arouse the spirit in a rest of the children of the Pinto to a fuller realization of the great American Fiesta.

Too long have these people followed wooden salutes procession, in their many fiestas with much blowing of horns and ringing of bells, giving their hearts in vague uncertainty to near poles and wooden images or a distant God. But, here was something real, Independence day, the image of God standing forth in flesh and blood, God like the free. This is something to celebrate, and how celebrate more fittingly than with gun powder? Was it not this that made the weak man with a brave heart stronger than all the muscle and brawn of earls and cowards?

So we tried a preliminary round on the night of the third and spread our smoke on the early morning air of Independence day, tearing the thunders of Echo from his mountain heights to wake the drowsy Filipino with the ponderous throbings of Independence, giving him the glorious privilege of watching our smoke.

In the evening our principal, Mr. Laughram opened his parlor, which we had decorated with palms and flowers, and the youth of Dao escorted by the necessary papas and mammas came in for "magrande baile."

The town band and the school orchestra gave us music. There was cheer for old and young and all was merry as Christmas chimes.

OLD MAN JILTED.

Evansville Girl who was Betrothed to Widower Married Yonger Lover.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 15. Miss Nettie Frances Carr, a society woman of Evansville, chose between youth and age, jilted the man she had promised to wed and became the bride of another. Last night Miss Carr was married to John Warren Pearce, Jr., a wealthy business man of St. Louis, an Englishman by birth and a handsome man. It developed yesterday that Miss Carr was engaged to marry John Huntington Crandall a prominent lawyer of Kansas City, Mo., a widower who has two daughters at school.

Recently invitations were received here for a wedding breakfast, to follow a marriage between Mr. and Mrs. Carr and Mr. Crandall, which were to take place August 15. Pearce who had long been a suitor for Miss Carr's hand, came here and induced the girl to accept him and turn down the Kansas City barrister. Immediately after Miss Carr became the bride of Pearce she wrote Crandall a note, telling him their engagement was broken.

SURPRISED AND AMAZED.

Mrs. Noah Webster Was Illustrated Anyhow, When Her Husband Kissed the Housemaid

Noah Webster, the lexicographer, was, as might be supposed, a stickler for good English, and often reproved his wife's misuse of the language.

On one occasion Webster happened to be alone in the dining room with their very pretty housemaid, and, being susceptible to such charms, put his arms around her and kissed her squarely on the mouth.

Just at this moment Mrs. Webster entered the room, gasped, stood aghast, and, in a tone of horror, exclaimed:

"Why, Noah, I am surprised!" Whereupon Mr. Webster, coolly and calmly, but with every evidence of disgust, turned upon her.

"How many times must I correct you on the use of simple words?" he remarked. "You mean, madam, that you are astonished. I, madam—I am the one who is surprised."

London's Paupers.

London lays out for poor relief $20,000,000 a year, and 28 out of every 1,000 of the population receive relief as paupers. In one district, West Ham, 40,000 persons were recently reported as on the edge of starvation. There is not work enough there for all the workers, but a large proportion of the destitute are incapable of performing labor. They are human wrecks and must be supported by charity or perish. Throughout England at large there is considerable poverty, but it is most pressing and visible in the capital, and students of social phenomena and symptoms say it is mainly due to drink.

Extravagant Living.

The Emperor Franz Josef of Austria has good cause to grumble about his kitchen expenses. Although the actual cost of the food he consumes himself does not amount to $5,000 a year, he pays his chef, a Belgian, a salary of $10,000 per annum, and the kitchen expenses at the palace are never less than $75,000. The emperor's chef always submits a menu for the following day's dinner to his royal master when dinner is served. Punctually at 6 o'clock his valet enters with a large tray, and while Franz Josef is eating his soup he scans tomorrow's menu and crosses off with a blue pencil anything he does not care for.
